Gunton's Magazine—Poet Lore

These two "Poole" sets have always been scarce. We now own the entire publishers' stock of back numbers, and know that very few sets can be made up in future. Neither set is common second-hand.

Look at Your Files at Once and write us what you need. It will be years before you can get these if you neglect this opportunity.

ABOUT COMPLETE SETS.

Gunton's Magazine (first 10 volumes called Social Economist) 1891-1904. 27 volumes. We have been able to make up but three sets. Price complete, $67.50 each, unbound. We now lack a few scarce numbers which we hope to find and request your orders. This set covers an important subject.

Poet Lore, 1889–1904. Volumes 1–15. We cannot offer an absolutely complete set, but will book orders for two sets, to be supplied as soon as ready, $50.00 each; or will sell them lacking three numbers each, for $40.00.

We have ten files of vols. 10–15, 1898–1904, complete, being the quarterly portion. Price for the present $20.00. 1904, four numbers complete $2.00

Have You Any Duplicates? We wish to buy or take in exchange SOCIAL ECONOMIST, March, May 1891, January 1893.

GUNTON'S MAGAZINE. July 1896; Sept. 1897; March, Sept. 1899 and numbers in 1901–4, inclusive.

POET LORE. Jan. '89; May, Oct. '90; Jan., Feb., Nov. '91 Jan. '92 to Dec. '94; Feb. '95; July-Sept. 1897.

PAMPHLETS ON SOCIAL ECONOMY. We have many hundreds of the Lecture Bulletins of the Institute of Social Economics, each containing a lecture of some 20 pages octavo by Mr. Geo. Gunton, on some live subject. These would prove a great help to those preparing debates. Librarians usually know of the subjects to be treated at different clubs, or schools. Why not order a selection of the following? Price for Ten of Your Selection 50c. Price for One of Each Title at the Rate of 4c each. Postage extra; 1c for each two nos. Sample copy free.

TITLES AVAILABLE ARE:—

The New Congress; Will Protection always be Necessary; Populism and Silver; The New Democracy; Why Should we Fight; Patriotism and Politics; English Social and Reform Movement; Rapid Transit and City Evolution; The Ways of Wall Street; Our Duty to the Boers; Congress and the Currency; Liberty and the Boycott; The Philippine Commissioners Report; The Natural Nation Builders; The President's Message; Home Rule and Central Authority; Is Socialism the Goal of Progress?; How we Came to the Gold Standard; The Peril of Popular Government; Large Corporations and Free Government; Restriction of Immigration; President Roosevelt's First Message; The Rights of Man; Our "Obligation" to Cuba; The Dead Line of Labor; Should Chinese Laborers be Excluded?; Prosperity and the Cost of Living; The Tyranny of Political Custom; Labor and the Courts; Association and Progress; Strikes and Politics; Trust Regulation; Public Ownership; Trade Union Responsibility; Ethics of Class Legislation; Business and Wages; The Eight Hour Day; Are "Trusts" an Enemy of Labor; The Making of New States; Is Negro Suffrage a Failure?; Is Might the Arbiter of Right?; Too Much Injunction; Dangers of a Strike Epidemic; Misinterpretation of Protection; Shall we Help or Hinder Prosperity?; English and American Tariff Experiences; Danger of too Much Law; The Moral Influence of Material Welfare; The Coming "Class Struggle".

SETS OF PERIODICALS.

The importance of bound periodicals in public and college libraries was never so widely recognized as at present. The publication this month of a five year cumulation of the Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature ($15.00, may we take your order for it now?) will cause a renewed effort on the part of many libraries to complete their back files of periodicals. The new monthly "Library Index" this year gives still another reason for completing sets, as it shows the growing use of serials as reference books.

THE BOSTON BOOK COMPANY can without undue boasting, claim the largest stock of periodicals ever collected under one roof, and the largest business in this exclusive field in the country if not in the world.

We offer librarians (a) expert service in this rather difficult field, (b) choice from over 100,000 volumes in stock; (c) perfection, guaranteed through careful collection; (d) prices that compare favorably with those made for uncollated or fragmentary sets.

Send Us Your Wants.

(a) Complete sets, files of which you need, having recently begun to subscribe.
(b) "Runs" to fill gaps inherited from your predecessor.

"Poole" Sets to be Sold Quickly

We list the following complete sets FROM STOCK. They are most of them in "Poole," many are in "Poole, Abridged" and thus very necessary to small and growing libraries.

We are to take account of stock May 15, and our business year is closing. To turn these sets into money we will make prices very low — lower than we can again. You know how a printed list is held as a standard of market value. So we cannot, for obvious reasons, put the prices on these sets, they are too low. Write us and we will quote any you are interested in. Mention "BULLETIN OF BIBLIOGRAPHY" when you write, as we otherwise shall quote regular prices.

Bulletin of Bibliography

Vol. 4 APRIL, 1905. No. 3

This Bulletin is published, primarily, as a means of communication between The Boston Book Company and its customers. A constant endeavor will be made, however, to include in each issue enough original matter of sufficient value to induce librarians to preserve and bind up the numbers. Each volume will be provided with a title-page and an index.

No subscription price will be put upon the journal, and numbers will not be sold. It will be sent to a selected list of libraries, customers or likely to become customers of The Boston Book Company. The circulation of The Bulletin will be increased in proportion to the interest shown in it, and in the special work of the Library Department of The Boston Book Company. Correspondence is solicited, and should be addressed,

The Boston Book Company,

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

PLEASE REPLY.

We wish to ask our friends how we can secure their perusal of our BULLETIN OF BIBLIOGRAPHY, especially the advertising pages. We offer many bargains in sets in every issue, some of them at cost. We feel sure a more careful reading would result in better business for us, and greater satisfaction to you. How shall we get that result?

Here is a case in point. In the January number we offered at the bottom of the outside cover and on the Editorial page a handy pamphlet reprint of the "Holiday Bibliography" at 20 cents a copy, feeling sure it would meet a need in every library with a bulletin board, or a children's room. Only 20 advance orders were received from nearly 2,000 libraries to which the BULLETIN was sent, so we cut down our contemplated edition to 200 copies, and the type is distributed. The entire edition was immediately taken by the first thirty libraries visited in February and March by our manager by simply showing a sample copy. Only one of the librarians visited had seen the announcement in our BULLETIN! All wanted from 2 to 30 copies of the pamphlet.

The question we want answered is how can we get the attention of prospective buyers? Our medium seems a splendid one, and approval of the BULLETIN is general.

The Editor invites communications on this point.

STOCK TAKING BARGAINS.

Our Annual Stock Taking comes in May. We therefore desire to make large sales at small profit before May 15. Write us and send list of wants in Periodicals. It will pay you to buy now. We want to save our time which is money by having a small stock to list.

STANARD, William Glover. Edward Waters. [A Biographical and Genealogical Sketch.] Vol. 1 (no. 1, July, 1893), p. 92-93.

NOTE.—This article is number 22 of an "Abstract of Virginia Land Patents." Prepared by W. G. Stanard. Waters was one of Washington Irving's "The Three Kings of Bermuda." His name is mentioned in SMITH'S Generall Historie as one of the three men who were left on the islands when Sir George Somer's body was carried back to England in 1611. After several adventures between 1614 and 1617 he went to Virginia in the latter year where he determined to remain. He married there and died in 1628 leaving a son and daughter.

NOTE.—This relates to the case of Owen Evans who was arrested for pressing divers maidens to be sent to the Bermudas and Virginia, there to be sold as servants.

Wallace, Alfred Russel. The Geographical Distribution of Animals with a Study of the Relations of Living and Extinct Faunas as elucidating the Past Changes of the Earth's Surface. London, 1876. 2 vols., 8°.

NOTE.—Under the heading "Islands of the Alleghany Sub-region" he speaks of the Bermudas (vol. 2, p. 134-135), as follows:—

"These islands, situated in the Atlantic, about 700 miles from the coast of Carolina, are chiefly interesting for the proof they afford of the power of a great variety of birds to cross so wide an extent of ocean. There are only six or eight species of birds which are permanent residents on the islands, all common North American species; while no less than 140 species have been recorded as visiting them. Most of these are stragglers, many only noticed once; others appear frequently and in great numbers, but very few, perhaps not a dozen, come every year, and can be considered regular migrants. The permanent residents are, a greenlet (Vireo noveboracensis), the cat-bird (Galeoscoptes carolinensis), the blue bird (Sialia sialis), the cardinal (Cardinalis virginianus), the American crow (Corvus americanus), and the ground dove (Chamæpelia passerina). The most regular visitants are a kingfisher (Ceryle alcyon), the wood-wagtail (Siurus noveboracensis), the rice-bird (Dolichonyx oryzivorus), and a moor-hen (Gallinula galeata). Besides the American species four European birds have been taken at the Bermudas: Saxicola œnanthe, Alauda arvensis (perhaps introduced), Crex pratensis, and Scolopax gallinago."

"A common American lizard, Plestiodon longirostris, is the only land reptile found on the islands."

In the New York edition, of the same year, the paging is identical. Mr. G. Brown Goode, in Nature, vol. 17 (no. 439, March 28, 1878), p. 425, differs from this author in calling the Plestiodon longirostris, "a common American lizard."

NOTE.—The author devotes pp. 253-264 to Bermuda, using, to illustrate his subject, a "Section of Bermuda and adjacent sea-bottom," and a tinted map showing depths of 1,000 fathoms more or less. Among the topics touched upon are: Description and Formation; The Red Clay Zoology; Birds, with a list of ten resident birds; Comparison of the Bird-faunas of Bermuda and the Azores; Insects; Land Mollusca, with a list of twenty species; Flora; Concluding Remarks.

NOTE.—The narrative of the voyage closes abruptly with the death of Captain Foster, who was accidentally drowned in the river Chagres. "The Chanticleer sailed from Chagres on the 11th of February for Porto Bello, for the purpose of getting observations for the chronometers. From this place she finally sailed on the 13th following, and after getting the same observations off the east end of Jamaica, Cuba, Crooked Island, Bermuda, and St. Michaels, arrived in Falmouth on the 17th of May, 1831, and was paid off at Sheerness on the 9th of June following."—p. 208.

Wesleyan-Methodist Magazine; being a Continuation of the Arminian or Methodist Magazine. London. 8°.

NOTE.— This magazine was known by several names, as follows: 1. The Arminian Magazine; 1778-1797 (20 vols.). 2. The Methodist Magazine; 1798-1821 (24 vols.). 3. The Wesleyan-Methodist Magazine; 1822-1844 (23 vols.).

The Wesleyan-Methodist Missionary Society appointed missionaries to Bermuda from 1800 to 1850, as follows:—

John Stephenson, 1800; Francis Hallett, optional, 1802; James Lowry, 1803; William Black, 1804, 1806; Joshua Marsden, 1807-1810; James Dunbar, 1811-1812; William Coultas, 1813; William Wilson, Jr., 1814-1817; Moses Rayner, 1814-1815; William Ellis, 1816; William Sutliffe, 1817-1819; James Dunbar, 1820-1822; William Dowson, 1823-1824; Roger Moore, 1825-1827; James Howe, 1828-1831; J. Edmondson, Jr., 1832; John Crofts, 1830-1833; John Barry, 1834-1835; Thomas Richardson, 1834-1835; Theophilus Pugh, 1836-1841; Samuel S. Johnstone, 1836; Thomas Jeffery, 1837-1840; James Walton, 1842; William E. Shenstone, 1843-1845; Thomas Smith, 1846-1850; John B. Brownell, 1846-1850; William Ritchie, 1847-1848; James Aldis, 1849; George Douglass, 1850.

John Stephenson, the first missionary, was arrested for preaching the Gospel to the negroes and thrown into prison where he remained for six months. Francis Hallett and James Lowry did not go to Bermuda, perhaps being deterred by the treatment received by Stephenson. William Black started, but when the captain of the vessel upon which he had engaged passage and the passengers discovered that he was a Methodist missionary they refused to allow him to proceed in the vessel. The later missionaries wrote letters giving accounts of their labours which were printed in this magazine, as given below.

From 1819-1821, Bermuda was in the Missionary District of Antigua; from 1822-1833, in the Bahama District; from 1834-1843, in the Antigua District; from 1844-1849, in the Bahama District; and in 1850 it was placed in the Nova Scotia District in which it has since remained.

From Bermuda's reefs, from edges
Of sunken ledges
In some far-off, bright Azore,
From Bahama, and the dashing
Silver flashing
Surges of San Salvador."—p. 143.
